Peru: Colored by the Chancay Conflict

Peru is, along with Brazil, Chile and Mexico, one of the four main destinations for Chinese investment in Latin America. With a focus on mining, infrastructure and energy, conglomerates such as China Railway Group, Power Construction of China, Jiangxi Copper, Zijin Mining, China Three Gorges Corporation, China Minmetals, Jiangsu Juyang New Energy Technology and Trina Solar are present in the country. “Unlike Chile where there were some questions about the Chinese presence, this is not observed in Peru,” says Sanborn. “In addition, although there is high political instability in Peru, the economic course remains unchanged and that is why an FTA 2.0 with new elements is being negotiated with China.”
